

BSL GAS TECHNOLOGIES LTD - COOKIE NOTICE

Statement

BSL Gas Technologies Ltd uses cookies on this website.

A cookie is a small text file that is downloaded onto your device (such as a computer or smartphone) when you access our website. This file allows the website to recognise your device and store information about your preferences or past actions. On this page, we'll explain the types of cookies we use and their purposes, and provide you with the option to turn them on or off.

We use cookies to make our website more accessible, to provide you with relevant information and functionality and to help us improve it. We also use cookies to ensure that our online advertisements reflect your interests. However, none of these cookies gather any personally identifying information such as your name or email address. Any information collected using cookies is compiled anonymously.

You can choose to restrict or block cookies through your browser settings at any time. For more information about how to do this, and about cookies in general, you can visit www.allaboutcookies.org. However, please be aware that blocking cookies set on our website may affect the website's functionality or performance and prevent you from using certain services provided through the website.

Please note that third parties, such as providers of external services like website analysis services, may also use cookies. These cookies are beyond our control, but we may receive services from these third parties, such as targeted advertising and website analytics.

There are several types of cookies that we use on our website, including:

Strictly Necessary Cookies

These cookies are essential for using the features and services on our website. If you block these cookies, we cannot guarantee access to the services provided through our website, nor can we guarantee how our website will perform during your visit.

Functional Cookies

These cookies allow our website to remember choices you make, such as your login details or any customisations you make to the pages on our website.

Performance and Analytics Cookies

These cookies help us understand how people use our website. They collect information such as which pages on our website visitors go to most often, which features they use, and which websites people have visited before they visit ours. We use this information to improve our website and provide a better user experience.

Marketing Cookies

We use these cookies to remember which pages you've viewed on our website, including which advertisements you've been shown, and to show you adverts that we think might be of interest to you based on your browsing history on our website.

SPAM Protection

This type of service analyses our website traffic, potentially containing users' data, with the purpose of filtering it from parts of traffic, messages and content that are recognised as spam.

Third-Party Cookies

Other companies use these cookies we work with to deliver relevant advertising on our website and other websites. They are sometimes called ‘third-party cookies’ because they are set by other companies when you browse our website rather than by us.

These companies use cookies to build a profile of you based on your browsing our website and which advertisements you’ve seen and clicked on. They use these profiles to show you relevant advertisements on our website.

These companies may track your browsing across multiple devices and combine your browsing on multiple devices into a single profile that is used to deliver relevant advertisements to you on all those devices.

They may also use a number of different methods to determine whether multiple devices appear to be used by you, including matching information about your devices, browsing activity and geo-location.
